

Myths vs. Facts

³⁵
₁₇ MYTH - All sex offenders are child molesters and all child molesters are predators.

FACT - The FBI-UCR, National Crime Victimization Survey reveals that only 23% of sex crimes are against someone under 18; and the Bureau of Justice Statistics shows that predators represent around three percent of all sex offenders and child killers are less than one percent of all offenders.

³⁵
₁₇ MYTH – Sex offenders are predominantly pedophiles.

FACT – Pedophiles are sexually fixated on underage individuals, and the term pedophile refers to a sexual orientation towards children pre-puberty and ephebophile is attracted to children post-puberty (Howitt, 1995). Only 3-5% of all sex offenders can be classified as pedophiles (Carlstedt, et.al. 2009). “Child molestation” is defined as sexual contact between an adult and a child victim (Hobson, et.al., 1985). Most child molestations are not committed by pedophiles.

³⁵
₁₇ MYTH - All sex offenders will kill and commit heinous crimes.

FACT -- The majority of past legislation has been generated by the emotion over the result of a murdered and abused child. These people are psychopaths. They make up less than 2% of all sex offenses (U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics, Sex Offenses and Offenders, An Analysis of Data on Rape and Sexual Assault, February 1997, NCJ 163392, Updated 2002). Combining their cases with the numerous persons who are amenable to counseling and with teens charged for consensual sex compromises these peoples’ lives. It lowers their quality of life, which can lead to frustration, upheaval and to potential danger.

³⁵
₁₇ MYTH - All sex offenders are bad people and want to harm others.

FACT -- Criminal justice experts agree a person leaving prison has a much higher success rate if there is family and a good support group. Persons with sex offense compulsions act out due to shame in many instances, as the addictive cycle reaches the shame level. The tracking mechanisms put a person in crisis on housing, job seeking and retaining, possibly preventing the family unit to stay together, and a general sense of self worth. These are characteristics that can lead to re-offending. Rather than protecting, the laws are putting the public at risk by minimizing the person’s ability to gain a creditable life.

³⁵
¹⁷ MYTH - Depraved adults commit all sex crimes.

FACT -- Most sexual victimization takes place within families and among friends. Even though parents warn children about strangers, the vast majority of sexual offenses occur among people who are known and trusted — parents, siblings, friends, teachers, coaches or anyone within the family’s “zone of association.” There were 38% of offenders who victimized children under age 6 were juveniles (under age 18) (U.S.Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics, Sexual Assault of Young Children as Reported to Law Enforcement: Victim, Incident, and Offender Characteristics, July 2000, NCJ 182990.) The vast majority (84%) of sexual assaults on children below age 12 occur in a residence. (U.S.Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics, Sexual Assault of Young Children as Reported to Law Enforcement: Victim, Incident, and Offender Characteristics, July 2000, NCJ 182990, table 4.)

Victimization of juveniles usually takes place within families (34%) and among friends (59%). Juveniles are rarely victimized by strangers (7%). (U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics, Sexual Assault of Young Children as Reported to Law Enforcement: Victim, Incident, and Offender Characteristics, July 2000, NCJ 182990, table 6.)

¹⁷ MYTH – Children are vulnerable to predators near schools and parks.

FACT -- The politicians, and some in the media, want you to believe in the stranger danger myth. The fact is that, according to the U.S. Dept. of Justice, American Psychological Association, the Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers, and other experts; children are abused by a family member or someone trusted by the family in around 90 percent of all the cases. “...there were no examples that residential proximity to a park or school was a contributing factor in any of the sexual re-offenses noted.” (Levenson, Jill S. PhD Sex offender residence restrictions. A Report to the Florida Legislature, October 2005)

³⁵
¹⁷ MYTH - Men who molest boys are homosexuals or bisexual.

FACT- According to the October 5, 2006 issue of Pediatrics, the Journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics, 98% of molested males and 99.6% of molested girls are victims of heterosexuals.

³⁵
¹⁷ MYTH - Sex offenses are increasing in the United States.

FACT – Sexual crimes have decreased over time. The report of adult rape has declined 69% from 1993 through 2005. Substantiated sex crimes against children fell 40% between 1992 and 2000 (Human Rights Watch, 2007).

Recidivism Studies

There is a widespread misperception that people who commit sexual crimes do it again and again. The research, however, directly contradicts this. Recidivism rates for sex offenses are relatively low, typically running in the 3-13% range, and among the lowest of all types of crimes.

The largest, most sophisticated analysis was performed by Karl Hanson, Solicitor General of Canada. His 2004 quantitative met analysis examined research evidence and recidivism risk factors in a total of 95 studies involving 31,000 sexual offenders with an average follow-up time of 5 years. Hanson's findings include:

³⁵₁₇ Overall recidivism rate for new sex crimes: 13.7% (Hanson, R.K., and Morton-Bourgon, K, Predictors of Sexual Recidivism: An Updated Meta-Analysis. Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness Canada (2004-2), p.8)

³⁵₁₇ Recidivism rate for child molestation: 12.7% (Hanson, R.K. and Bussiere, M., Predicting Relapse: A Meta-analysis of Sexual Offender Recidivism Studies, Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology (1998) p. 8.)

³⁵₁₇ Recidivism rate for child molestation within families: 8.4% (Hanson, R.K., Age and Sexual Recidivism: A Comparison of Rapists and Child Molesters, Department of the Solicitor General of Canada (2001-01), p. 9.)

³⁵₁₇ Recidivism rate for rape: 18.9% (Hanson, Predicting Relapse, p. 8.)

A U.S. Justice study released in 2003 shows child molester rearrest rate for new sex crime against a child: 3.3%. All sex offender rearrest rate for new sex crime against a child: 2.2%. Sex offenders were less likely than non-sex offenders to be rearrested for ANY offense – 43 percent of sex offenders versus 68 percent of non-sex offenders. (U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics, Recidivism of Sex Offenders Released from Prison in 1994, November 2003, NCJ 198281)
